

Re: Annexus 63Z Default Login / Password Change

To all of our customers and partners;

Please note that a new Annexus Firmware v. 01-03-26 has been officially released for Annexus 63Z IP camera series. The new firmware version is available for download on our website: www.i3international.com > Support > Downloads > Firmware > Annexus 63Z v.01-03-26

The new firmware comes with the following improvements:

1. New default user login and password (i3admin/i3admin)

FW version:	Default User Name	Default Password
v. 0.1.4670	admin	1234
v. 01-03-26	i3admin	i3admin

2. PAL mode image improvement
3. CGI command fix
4. New resolution combination support
5. Continuous manual panning added
6. Increased focus stability
7. Audio improvement

Related Software:

- To search:
Use Annexus Finder v3.1 or higher
Use ACT (Annexus Configuration Tool) v.1.1.0 or higher
- To record:
Use SRX-Pro v3.2.1 or higher

All Annexus-series cameras are sold with the most recent version of the firmware already pre-installed. To upgrade your previously-purchased Ax63Z camera with the new firmware, please start by downloading the firmware package from our website or FTP.

For instructions on how to install new Firmware, please see p.41 of the Ax63 User Manual.

Note, that after the firmware upgrade, the old login information will be saved to allow your Ax63Z camera to continue recording normally in the SRX-Pro Server. If desired, the new default administrative account can be implemented by restoring the camera's default factory settings after the firmware upgrade. Note that this step will overwrite any custom settings configured on the camera, the login information in the IP Camera setup tab will also have to be updated for each Ax63Z camera.

For the sake of simplicity and expediency, we recommend taking no action after upgrading your Annexus 63Z camera to the new firmware (v.01-03-26), your camera will continue recording normally.

Please consult with your Regional Sale Managers for more information.
Thank you very much for your attention and cooperation.
