Release Announcement: Veo17 Embedded DVR.

To all of our customers and partners;

i3 International is pleased to announce the release of the new Veo17 Embedded DVR.

The Veo17 is an affordable entry-level digital surveillance video recorder running on an embedded Linux operating system.

Use of a monitor and mouse (included) provide local access to Veo17's menus. Managers can choose between a VGA and HDMI outputs or the remote IE Web browser to view live video. H.264 video compression improves remote viewing performance of a single or multiple sites by supplying the bandwidth-efficient dual streaming.

Local users can back up video to a USB drive; remote users can back up video to their local PC or any removable storage media.

Veo17 embedded DVR is compatible with i3's line of HD-TVI cameras, Am42R and Am52R as well as legacy analog cameras. Video recording for HD-TVI cameras at 1080P resolution is capped at 12fps, while 720P resolution supports real-time recording of 30fps.

A built-in alarm indicator will auto-detect and monitor the condition for the hard drives, network, and other alerts for added peace of mind. The unit comes with two SATA interfaces and supports for the total of 12TB of storage or 6TB of redundant (Mirror) recording.

Please remember that as with all i3 video servers, the use of Western Digital RE-rated hard drives is required for maintaining your original warranty. The Veo17 DVR is backed by i3's superior 3-year parts and 1-year labor warranty policy.
